2. [REDACTED] who just returned from [REDACTED] was in to visit with me. He felt highly complimented and was indeed pleased to be going to Harvard and then to the Midcareer Course. He was anxious to know exactly what job we have in mind for him. I told him that this was difficult for me to say at the moment but that I hoped that after attending Harvard and the Mid-career Course he would stay in Headquarters for about two years before going overseas again. This arrangement would please him very much. However, he understands that I cannot make this an ironclad commitment, and he is ready, willing, and able to go anywhere we want to send him.
